BASKETBALL FEATURE

The Legion basketball season will start off with a zip Friday night, when the local athletes tackle the strong quintet from Hardwick. The strength of the visiting team is well known to local basketball fans, who will remember the defeat they handed out last year. They are equally strong this year, and have added several college stars, home for the Christmas recess, to their team for this particular game.

This should be a game well worth seeing, as the Legion five is out to make up for last year's defeat. A large crowd is sure to be on hand, so procure your seats early.

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL CHRISTMAS SERVICE

The little folks of the Methodist Sunday School delighted a most appreciative audience at the Christmas service last Saturday evening. The young people's chorus was exceptionally well trained as was evidenced by the pleasing harmony of their members. The songs rendered by the classes of Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Eaton, Mrs. Dugan and Miss Bugbee were especially well received. The gestures of the children, together with their singing, accentuated the charm of these exercises. Pleasure in the musical program was further heightened by the beautiful solos of Marion Mead and Gladys King. Remarkable talent was shown in the rendition of these numbers. The song by the quartet composed of Ruth Lawson, Doris Atchinson, Philip King and Lyle Siloway manifested an unusual degree of musical ability.

In addition to the music, much enjoyment was derived from the recitations of Robert Waite and Emma Hurlburt. Marion Brooks, in her usual pleasing manner, gave a very effective reading, entitled "Angels Lullaby."

The interpretation of "The Little Christmas Spirit" by the classes of Mrs. Best and Ruth Clark, assisted by Mr. Ellis in the role of Santa Clause, not only entertained the audience, but exemplified the true meaning of Christmas. Little Miss Farr, as the Christmas Spirit, introduced to Santa Clause nine little girls who represented various Christmas rites.

Mrs. Best's class presented an original exercise given partly in pantomine and partly in song, which showed a great deal of painstaking effort in the training. The doll's lullaby was very cleverly planned and performed.

Variety in the program was achieved with the aid of two dialogues, entitled "A Christmas Box From Aunt Jane" and "A Christmas Birthday Party." The former showed an amusing side of human nature, while the latter presented to the little folks an appropriate manner in which to commemorate the birthday of Christ.

Especially worth-while was the picturesque tableau, entitled "Christmas Memories," in which Christmas carols were sung. Effective costumes were used to emphasize the Yuletide season.

The thoroughly enjoyable and inspiring program was brought to a close by the exercise of Shirley Skinner's class, in which several little people, with lighted candles, bade their audience good night.

Santa Clause then appeared and in his customary genial and lavish manner presented toys and gifts to the happy children.

This worth-while program was particularly appealing. A great deal of credit is due the committee in charge, especially Mrs. Almon Call and Mrs. Pearl Mead.

BAND FAIR

Big Event Coming Latter Part of Next Month

Morristown has a band of which everyone is justly proud.

The annual fair next month is always a big attraction, but this will surely eclipse all former efforts, the boys say.

Particulars next week and later.

GRANGE NOTES

The next regular meeting will be held Friday evening of this week.
A short and interesting program will be prepared, after which a social will be held.

All members are asked to bring a small parcel for the grab-bag. Come and close the old year with a rousing time.

PEOPLES ACADEMY

The basketball game with Greensboro, played last Friday night, was a rather one-sided affair, our boys running up a score approaching the hundred mark, while the visiting boys scored one-fourth that number. Some of the second string men were played.
The Greensboro boys were game and at times showed good work.

The followers of basketball should remember that tomorrow (Thursday) night a fast game will be played on the local gym floor, when our team goes against the team representing Hartford high of White River Junction. This team is coached by a former Morrisville boy, A. J. Parker, now principal of Hartford high.
They play Hardwick before coming here and this game should give some idea of their strength. This undoubtedly will be a hard game for our boys, and they should have a large backing from the students of P. A. and the citizens of the community.

The college play, "The Varsity Coach," was presented on Dec. 19 before a good sized audience in the town hall. The cast was picked from members of the junior and senior classes, and the choice was well made for each character. Each individual carried the part well, and many who witnessed the play have spoken in high praise of the work done. The entire preparation for this presentation was done in three weeks without seriously interfering with the regular school work. High credit is due those who coached the cast for the quality of work done. Between acts the audience was entertained by Catherine Valleur in some artistic interpretative dancing, and by Mr.
Whelton in Scotch dialect songs, and Philip Goddard in violin selections.
The proceeds are for the benefit of
P. A. A. A.

CHRISTMAS AT THE CONGREGA- TIONAL CHURCH

The Christmas program at the Congregational Church opened on Friday evening when the members of the primary and junior departments of the Sunday School entertained their parents and friends with a play.
All who participated from the tiniest dolly to the aged Santa Claus acquired themselves very creditably and the program was enjoyed by an audience which taxed the seating capacity of the vestry. On Saturday the distribution of gifts to the shut-ins was made.

The Sunday morning service was unusually beautiful and inspiring.
The music, furnished by the augmented choir under the leadership of Mrs. G. M. Powers, was pronounced by many to be the finest ever given in the church. The two anthems by the choir were of an unusually high order, while Mrs. Powers' rich soprano voice was at its best in the solo.

The subject of the sermon was "Hunger Dreams," not a conventional Christmas subject, nor was the sermon a conventional Christmas sermon. The pastor spoke of four kinds of hunger, for beauty which flowered in the pagan world and was exemplified by the Taj Mahal; for distance, which has always lured the great explorers, scientists and truth seekers; the hunger for bread which even now grips so many thousands of starving children the world over; and the hunger for happiness which is satisfied by the child whose birthday we celebrate. The satisfaction of Christmas comes from places, faces and memories, all of which contribute to make it the happy season which it is.

The evening service was in the hands of the choir, which rendered several fine anthems, while the pastor gave a resume of Dickens' Christmas Carol with present day applications.

Much credit is due Mrs. H. A.
Smalley, who planned the general order of services; Mrs. G. M. Powers, for her work with the choir; and the different Sunday School classes, who participated, helped with the decorations, the distribution of gifts, etc.

Services were conducted by the Mt. Vernon Lodge, F. and A. M., assisted by Rev. E. G. French of Johnson, at the Congregational Church, on Sunday afternoon, Dec.
24.

He is survived by a wife, Flora B.
Brown; one son, Clyde F., and a sister, Mrs. John McQuinn, of Belvidere.

Among those who attended the funeral from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. John McQuinn and sons, Guy and Percy, of Belvidere, Mr. and Mrs.
Charles McQuinn and son, Owen, of Highgate, Mrs. Thirza Potter of Newport, N. H., Mr. and Mrs. James McQuinn and son, Chauncey, of Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cutting, Mrs. Max Wilson and Mrs. Fred Lunt of Burlington, Mr. and Mrs. George White of Montpelier, Mrs. George Perry of Cambridge, Mr. and Mrs.
Charles Chapin of Stowe and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Tillotson, Mr. and Mrs.
Howard Stevens and Mr. and Mrs.
Everett Calkins of Morrisville.

LAMOILLE COUNTY COURT afternoon to reconvene on Jan. 23 last was No. 1555, Town of Waterbury vs. A. L. & T. J. Laraway & W., which was settled out of court.

erable severity, and Willis R. Hosing-
